

For over 40 years worked as a director of the Planetarium with the astronautics department at the Technical Museum "Nikola Tesla" in Zagreb. He specializes in the popularization of astronautics, rocketry and astronomy and has delivered over 800 public lectures throughout Croatia, and regularly comments on developments in space flight and space exploration.